I prayed extra hard about this song, since I had such a issue keeping up with understanding all that was being put on the board yesterday in songwriting class. It was so over whelming.

Each day I am writing down what I am thankful for. Yesterday after my long hard day at college, I was driving home after doing errands and I was praying in my van, and God allowed me to see the pretties largest, full rounded sun in pink ! The largest sun I have ever seen right on 9th avenue before my very home. It was s reminder to me that God is watching, and He is sending blessings to me, I just have to watch for them.

Anthony had just reminded me after college today in the hallway that Angels use instruments and songs to talk with God, just like we are allowed to do. God wants to talk to us and show us things, like words of songs, music. If we only listen we can hear Him speak. I am glad that I listed and saw !

This week in class we are being asked to write a song using a progression.

Marta helped me find a website that could show me some ideas to get started.

One of the sites called auto chords. Com helped me explore some ideas of progressions. So I tried each one of them and I liked the progression of Canon, key of C.

After I decided on the progression, I wrote the notes, down and keep internalizing them until I felt something.

Then I thought about what I was thankful for and the words just came.

Genesis 1:1-31 (NIV)

<sup>2</sup>Now the earth was formless and empty, darkness was over the surface of the deep, and the Spirit of God was hovering over the waters.

<sup>3</sup>And God said, "Let there be light," and there was light.

<sup>4</sup>God saw that the light was good, and he separated the light from the darkness.

<sup>5</sup>God called the light "day," and the darkness he called "night." And there was evening, and there was morning--the first day.

<sup>6</sup>And God said, "Let there be an expanse between the waters to separate water from water."

<sup>7</sup>So God made the expanse and separated the water under the expanse from the water above it. And it was so.

<sup>8</sup>God called the expanse "sky." And there was evening, and there was morning--the second day.

<sup>9</sup>And God said, "Let the water under the sky be gathered to one place, and let dry ground appear." And it was so.

<sup>10</sup>God called the dry ground "land," and the gathered waters he called "seas." And God saw that it was good.

<sup>11</sup>Then God said, "Let the land produce vegetation: seed-bearing plants and trees on the land that bear fruit with seed in it, according to their various kinds." And it was so.

<sup>12</sup>The land produced vegetation: plants bearing seed according to their kinds and trees bearing fruit with seed in it according to their kinds. And God saw that it was good.

<sup>13</sup>And there was evening, and there was morning--the third day.

<sup>14</sup>And God said, "Let there be lights in the expanse of the sky to separate the day from the night, and let them serve as signs to mark seasons and days and years, <sup>15</sup>and let them be lights in the expanse of the sky to give light on the earth." And it was so.

<sup>16</sup>God made two great lights--the greater light to govern the day and the lesser light to govern the night. He also made the stars.

<sup>17</sup>God set them in the expanse of the sky to give light on the earth,

<sup>18</sup>to govern the day and the night, and to separate light from darkness. And God saw that it was good.

<sup>19</sup>And there was evening, and there was morning--the fourth day.

<sup>20</sup>And God said, "Let the water teem with living creatures, and let birds fly above the earth across the expanse of the sky."

<sup>21</sup>So God created the great creatures of the sea and every living and moving thing with which the water teems, according to their kinds, and every winged bird according to its kind. And God saw that it was good.

<sup>22</sup>God blessed them and said, "Be fruitful and increase in number and fill the water in the seas, and let the birds increase on the earth."

<sup>23</sup>And there was evening, and there was morning--the fifth day.

<sup>24</sup>And God said, "Let the land produce living creatures according to their kinds: livestock, creatures that move along the ground, and wild animals, each according to its kind." And it was so.

<sup>25</sup>God made the wild animals according to their kinds, the livestock according to their kinds, and all the creatures that move along the ground according to their kinds. And God saw that it was good.

<sup>26</sup>Then God said, "Let us make man in our image, in our likeness, and let them rule over the fish of the sea and the birds of the air, over the livestock, over all the earth, and over all the creatures that move along the ground."

<sup>27</sup>So God created man in his own image, in the image of God he created him; male and female he created them.

<sup>28</sup>God blessed them and said to them, "Be fruitful and increase in number; fill the earth and subdue it. Rule over the fish of the sea and the birds of the air and over every living creature that moves on the ground."

<sup>29</sup>Then God said, "I give you every seed-bearing plant on the face of the whole earth and every tree that has fruit with seed in it. They will be yours for food.

<sup>30</sup>And to all the beasts of the earth and all the birds of the air and all the creatures that move on the ground--everything that has the breath of life in it--I give every green plant for food." And it was so.

<sup>31</sup>God saw all that he had made, and it was very good. And there was evening, and there was morning--the sixth day.
