I called my friend Jackson up to see if he wanted to get together to write a song. He had some time. After dinner with Jim and Pastor Rich, I went to the church about 6:00. Jackson and I talked about his room remodel (band room) ideas. Then we prayed and Jackson started playing some chords, while I was setting up my guitar stuff. I don't pack light. As he played I heard, He is our God.

So Jackson continued to play, I started to write some ideas. We recorded with the zoom machine some thoughts on verse, bridge and chorus. The time was 6:35, I had to go to Pastors class and Jackson had to lead worship for the youth.

The next day I prayed and thought about things and the rest of the lyrics came into place by Gods thoughts in my mind.
